Is it too late for a poorfag to buy gold? I bought 100oz of silver last week which seems to be working out well. Should I keep stacking just silver since Id only be able to afford an oz or two of gold? Also wouldnt the chink buttcoin farms being BTFO mean its going to go to the moon due to less supply?

So in the last 24 hrs we had what was essentially a tactical nuclear terrorism committed by an unknown glownigger/muslim terrorist party, attempting to start WW3 in the levant. Under the cover of all that ammonium nitrate was a tactical backpack nuke in the range of 50,to 100 ton yield tactical nuke. Just about the right number for lower end of that type of weapon and destruction matches predicted models.
Whoever was trying to overthrow the current lebanese government and storing ammunition there at the port had a fall back option B to just cause as much destruction as possible and possibly ignite a war against israel and WW 3.
iranian/rogue hezbollah faction primary suspects for this massive 9/11 x100 false flag to begin WW3?
instability here and war would only benefit them and the chinese.

Now you are confirming the 3GD will definitely go.

Interesting shit.

some party in the middle east got their hands on similar device and had it stored/moved to there i guess.
I would guess it has to be remotely detonated or at least carried in like most backpack tactical nuclear weapons.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Special_Atomic_Demolition_Munition
"It was also intended that the munition could be used against targets in coastal and near-coastal locations. One person carrying the weapon package would parachute from an aircraft and place the device in a harbor or other strategic location that was accessible from the sea. Another parachutist without a weapon package would follow the first to provide support as needed. The two-man team would place the weapon package in the target location, set the timer, and swim out into the ocean, where they would be retrieved by a submarine or a high-speed surface water craft. "

Remove ds blackhat operatives from all of our MIL branches AND branches of government, by instituting EOs, then laws, which provide a new framework for how /our/ government runs moving forward.

"Impressive but unsound. Imagine Iran and it`s surrogates will take the bullet on this. Hearing this little shit show was put in place by a dissident group in Iran trying to take the Mullah`s out. Something that some beta males would do. If this gets Nasrallah strung up it would just be poetic justice for a piece of shit murderer. The Israelis`s had this prick poisoned years ago and was forced to give him an antidote by a previous administration. Stupid move. This deviant deserves a firing squad, and his body shredded and dump into the sea to feed the sharks. Fuck him. So where was the Middle East on my list. May have to move it up a few notches. Democrats are becoming more desperate. My source in the Biden Campaign says Joe has been soiling himself regularly and simply is not aware of it. He shit his pants two days ago and he had to have his diapers changed and his wife had to wipe him clean. His wife must be a real piece of shit putting him through this. Later"

So that might not have been a retarded idea after all... This is all too strange, though. We are led to believe that there were explosives in there already, and the results are similar to those of the Texas City disaster. Sabotage or loitering munitions could set it all off.
Still, if not Mossad, then who did it? It makes little sense, unless either China or an unknown third party wanted to escalate conflict in the area. It could also be an internal struggle in Lebanon.
Also, why the port? Because it was an easy target due to the explosives already being there? Then it couldn't have been a nuclear device.

The waiting has been a long time coming.
My first deep dive into plate tectonics was when the project was first started.
Even then, geologists were proposing that it's only a matter of time before the weight of the volume of water would destabilize underlying structural integrity.
Eartquakes were predicted upon fill, possibly dooming the project before it was in full swing.
>I've since wondered if released pressure might lead to similar optics. Hmm.
What's coming is cataclysmic, for certain.
The dragon gets buried in its lair, and its laird returns to a feudal state status?
Then the world gets to finally exhale the longest breath ever taken.

Racine was not the location of the lengthy article I read some time back; this one was in the PNW.
It was definitely on the quantum computing aspects of effectively running a bc mining operation.
It pretty much takes an entire town to see its promise, and allow.
By the time I finished the article, I understood it completely.

The "rod and the ring" is Q, because a Q is literally a rod and a ring.

"A rock will stand on seven hills" probably means a new pope will be elected because the seven hills are colloquially referred to as the Vatican. The pope will probably be covertly implicated in human trafficking and will step down / be replaced.

Truthfully, I agree with everything you've just said, but it not really in my nature to express myself like that. There was a time I not dare even think such things, but, my perspective has been enlightened.

OK then, like i said it doesn't matter, you'll find out because all the other events are coming to pass or have already come to pass. Believe whatever you want but it's definitely inside info. I don't know if they have this expression in Brazil: you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink.

Yes and Peter was traditionally the "first pope" so a "rock" standing on "the seven hills of rome" would indicate the replacement or election of a new pope. This has yet to come to pass but I expect this will occur shortly.

My system was so slow, I just went with it.
Oops.
However...maybe there'll be eyes on him now, looking to see if he's running a scam.
